DETAILED ACTION

1. The examiner of your application in the PTO has changed. To aid in correlating any papers for this application, all further correspondence regarding this application should be directed to Yunsoo Kim, Group Art Unit 1644, Technology Center 1600.

2. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 7/15/05 has been entered.

3. Applicant's amendment filed on 7/15/05 has been entered.

Claims 1 and 3-5 are pending and are under consideration.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C.112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1 and 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term "method" recited in claims 1 and 3-5 is ambiguous and unclear and the metes and bounds of the claimed "method" is not defined.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office Action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1644

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 1 and 3-5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over U.S. Pat. No. 5,066,491 in view of U.S. Pat. No. 5,080,895.

The claimed invention of broadly encompassed "method" has been considered as a method of disease treatment in light of the specification (p. 6, lines 8-23, Example 2(b), pp. 25-26) for examination purpose.

The '491 patent teaches a method of disease treatment using pathogenic specific antibodies including Clostridium perfringens as pathogen which causes enteric disease and the enteric disease is a serious health problem for animals of all ages (col. 38, lines 45-63, claims 1-4, col. 10, lines 56-61). The '491 patent further teaches the use of filtered product (i.e. antibody in solution) as feed additives or infant nutritional formula (col. 37, lines 55-63).

The '491 patent does not teach avian antibody.

However, the '895 patent teaches raising avian antibodies against bacteria causing diseases and advantages of using avian antibodies (i.e. antibodies from hens, col. 4, lines 49-57, claims 1-3). The '895 patent teaches that such avian antibodies are inexpensive and mass production is available at any season (col. 3, lines 30-40).

Therefore, one of the ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to combine disease treatment using Clostridium perfringens as taught by the '491 patent and avian antibody as taught by the '895 patent and to yield mass production of inexpensive antibodies.

Art Unit: 1644

From the teachings of references, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in art would have had a reasonable expectation of success in producing the claimed invention. Therefore, the invention as a whole was prima facie obvious to one of the ordinary in the art at the time of invention was made, as evidenced by the references, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

8. No claims are allowable.
